INTRODUCTION

This is the sixth volume of the Lancaster series (Part II) of the edition of the London customs accounts (TNA: PRO E122). It is comprised of accounts for a single year (1438/39), to wit 1) the petty customs particulars of account for exports, 2) the petty customs particulars of account for imports and 3) the wool customs and subsidy particulars of account and controlment roll.

Everything the reader needs to understand about the English customs system – and the peculiarities of the customs administration in London – has been detailed in the introduction to the pilot volume.¹ There are, however, some minor issues which need to be dealt with.

WORSTEDS

Exports of worsteds occasionally caused confusion. These cloths were, in theory, subject both to ad valorem petty customs (3d/£), introduced in 1303, and the cloth customs, imposed in 1347 and calculated by piece. However, the Hanseatic merchants had successfully contested being subjected to the cloth customs, since they violated Edward II's guarantee that, by virtue of his privilege issued on 7 Dec. 1317,² they would not be subject to new charges on their merchandise. Consequently, there were three differing customs rates on worsteds, depending on the status of the exporting merchant.

Customs charges imposed on exports of single and double worsteds indigenous	aliens	Hansards single worsteds
petty customs	(exempt)	3d/£	3d/£
cloth customs	1d/piece ³	1½d/piece	(exempt)
double worsteds
petty customs	(exempt)	3d/£	3d/£
cloth customs	2d/piece	3d/piece	(exempt)

In our petty customs export account for 1438/39, the customers avoided confusion by making separate entries for the ad valorem petty customs charge and the per piece cloth customs levy on worsteds of both sorts. Hence, indigenous worsted exports were charged only by the piece, Hansards were charged only on the value of the cloth (but not per piece) and all other aliens were charged both by the piece and on the value of the worsteds they exported, these charges being generally entered on separate lines. However, in two instances the auditor queried entries where the customers had not charged cloth customs on exports of worsteds. Since this was only justified if the merchant in question was Hanseatic, the auditor entered si de Hansa (ship No. 135, p. 60) and + si Hans' (ship No. 178, p. 97) in the left-hand margin.⁴ Apparently, the question was solved to the auditor's satisfaction, since neither the enrolled account nor the audit mentions either of these two cases.

GRAIN IMPORTS

On 4 October 1438, the Hanseatic merchant Berne Plescowe imported 13 lasts of rye (ship No. 4, p. 133) for which the customers charged him nothing. This was done, as the account states, by virtue of a warrant - sewn onto the margin of the page - which Henry VI had issued 16 March 1439 and directed to the London petty customers,⁵ ordering them - in view of the current famine in England - to cease collecting customs on imports of wheat, rye and other grains from Prussia, Poland and Germany.⁶ The enrolled account⁷ confines itself to a bare mention of the fact that the customers did not respond for customs on this grain and summarizes the writ, but does not pursue the matter further, a sure sign that the Exchequer accepted at face value the customers' assertion that no customs were due.

EUDES

On 6 March 1439, the Dieppe merchant Baldwin Eudes imported canvas and linen cloth (ship No. 90, p. 168) for which the customers charged him nothing. This was done, as noted in the account, by virtue of a warrant issued by Henry VI on 5 November 1438 and directed to the Exchequer.⁸ In this writ, the king began by noting that Henry V had granted the burgesses of Dieppe freedom from all customs and subsidies for their trade with England (with the exception of staple merchandise).⁹ Since (as their petition to Henry VI asserted) the Dieppe burgesses Baldwin Eudes, John Lontrell, Peter Beaufitz and John de Capelier had remained faithful to the king of England during the rebellion in that town and were forced into exile as a result, Henry VI granted them a patent,¹⁰ allowing them to enjoy the liberties of the burgesses of Dieppe (although they were currently living in Rouen) and ordering the Exchequer to exonerate them from payment of customs and subsidies for all imports and exports (with the exception of staple merchandise). The Exchequer accepted the customers' case without argument: the case was mentioned neither in the enrolled account nor in the audit.

⁵ This writ is calendared in the web version of this account as P 1.

The customers' particulars of account were fiscal documents, forming an integral part of the procedure imposed on the customers when accounting for the crown's customs income before the Exchequer. As such, they were marked up by the auditor when he summed up the crown's income according to the various categories and tariffs. These marginated annotations form an integral part of the source and, in my view of it, deserve to be reproduced in full. I have done this in the following way. First of all, the auditor's summations of income at the end of each page or membrane (including the jottings reproducing the position of the counters on the counting table) have been reproduced as written in the account. Second, all other marginated notes (e.g. a cross or an asterisk indicating an error) are noted in the normal way in the critical apparatus. However, recording the eternally repetitive marginal notes on the tariff categories to which particular products belonged (panni ind', panni al', panni Hans', per breve etc.) call for a different solution, since including them in the critical apparatus would simply blimp it up to no useful purpose. Consequently, I have indicated them in the text by employing superscript letters in angle brackets (e.g. <sup>^{a>}De Roberto Derlyngton) and resolving these in a block at the bottom of the page (Auditor's marginated notations L: <sup>^{a>}panni ind').

The problem of the hundredweight is exceedingly vexed. While it is well known that a hundredweight can correspond to 100 lb., 112 lb. or 120 lb. avoirdupois,¹¹ there is no way to know which of these three values applies when a customer writes c lb. or fractions and multiples thereof. Just occasionally, when the particulars of account and the controlment roll have survived, some insight is possible, for instance if one of the two records a particular merchant's exports of pewter vessels as di' c lb. vasorum stanni and the other the same goods as lvj lb. vasorum stanni.¹² But these cases are far too rare to inspire confident generalizing. Consequently, I have decided to leave the matter unsolved, marking the text in such a way that the reader can easily reconstruct the entry. The most common notation of weight – multiples of 'c' – has not been marked up. Thus ijj^c lb. is simply transcribed as 300

¹⁰ TNA: PRO, C76/16H6 m 6 (10 May 1438). Calendars Alexander Charles Ewald (ed.), A Calendar of French Rolls, Henry VI, in: Deputy Keeper's Report 48, 1887, Appendix, p. 322.

¹¹ OED s.v. hundredweight.

¹² Therefore, when transcribing entries regarding the export of pewter vessels, I have retained the hundredweight (e.g. pro 9 centenis vasorum stanni).

lb. If the thousand sign was used, the number is marked with a cross: thus, ij M^l lb. is transcribed as 2000[†] lb. (but xx^c lb. as 2000 lb.) If the sign for one half is used, this is indicated by an asterisk: thus, di' c lb. is transcribed as 50* lb. (but l lb. as 50 lb.) And finally, if the sign for one quarter is used, this is indicated by a double cross: thus, c q' lb. is transcribed as 125[‡] lb.

Diplomatic Notes on the Form of the Edition

The transcriptions of Latin documents in this edition observe the conventions of the Monumenta Germaniae Historica. The source texts (and all variants) are reproduced in normal type, while editorial intrusions are printed without exception in italics (e.g. mardre L3, in error). Unambiguous abbreviations are expanded silently, without using square brackets or italics to indicate missing letters. u/v and i/j have been regularized silently to accord with pronunciation: thus vniuersalis in the source text is rendered universalis, while ‘i’ is transcribed if the letter is pronounced as a vowel (imperii), and ‘j’ if the letter is pronounced as a consonant, i.e. like the ‘y’ in ‘you’ (majestas), even if the source writes imperij and maiestas.

Personal names and place names are transcribed exactly as written and only regularized in the Index of People and Places.

Roman numerals are reproduced as Arabic numerals, except for the sovereign’s ordinal (Edwardi ivth). Arabic numerals which occur in the source texts are indicated by bold type. ob’ is given as ½d, q’ as ¼d and ob’ q’ as ¾d.

Following the convention in German, I have used a full stop after a number to indicate the ordinal rather than the cardinal, if a number is not written out. Thus, 27. die Januarii (p. 147) is to be understood as vicesimo septimo die Januarii, rather than viginti septem die Januarii.

When transcribing the customs accounts, I have numbered the ships consecutively in italics in square brackets. The individual paragraphs of longer texts have also been numbered in the same way. The reason for this is that the web version of the accounts and accounting materials for the Lancastrian period has no pagination, since the amount of text displayed on the screen depends on the size of the monitor and its resolution. Consequently, cross references – whether within a single document, from one document to another or in the indices – to ‘page thus-and-such’ are meaningless, and some internal sub-division of the text which can be linked in is unavoidable. Since some scholars will want to use the printed version of the edition and others the web edition, it is necessary to provide a common basis. Thus, if one scholar refers to ship No. 24 in the digital version of a particular account, those using the printed version will be able to find the vessel in question.

All dates and cross references in the source texts have been resolved in italics in square brackets in the text of the edition, rather than in footnotes.

If both the particulars of account and the controlment roll survive, certain variants have been suppressed to avoid inflating the text-critical apparatus. Thus, neither the substitution of ‘y’ in one text for ‘i’ in the other (e.g. Willyamson, Williamson) nor middle English plural variants (-es, -is, -ys etc.) have been noted in the apparatus criticus. In general, I have limited the notation of textual variants to those cases in which the variant spelling of a word changes the pronunciation. Thus, the variant federbeds will be noted against fetherbeds, but not fedderbeds or federbeddes against federbeds.

Punctuation is artificial and ignores all medieval full stops, commas and so forth. Since Latin is a syntactic language (like German), the eminently useful MGH convention – namely to employ punctuation (according to the pre-reform German rules) to mark up the grammatical structure of the sentence – has been employed here. I have also broken up the stylistically elegant, but utterly incomprehensible run-on Latin sentences of the source texts into manageable units.

Since we are dealing with late medieval administrative Latin, there are some cases which call for local by-laws.

First of all, there are a number of middle English words embedded in the Latin texts which have to be assigned a gender, since they are often modified by an abbreviated adjective (e.g. pro 1 parv' fetherbed). Since the adjectives are written out in a number of instances (pro 1 parvo fetherbed), I have arbitrarily imposed a masculine grammatical gender on all middle English words rather than litter the edition with apostrophes.

Second, the sources themselves are in a muddle as to whether the words custuma and subsidiium are singular or plural, and usually avoid the problem by writing cust' and subs'. If a scribe does write out the one or the other word, it is almost inevitable that he will contradict himself, writing custuma in one line and custume a few lines later. This muddle is not merely the result of scribal carelessness or low standards of Latinity. In the fifteenth century, it was possible to differentiate between the collective noun (in the singular) denoting the charges to be paid and the individual sums (in the plural) which each merchant rendered. Even bearing this in mind, however, scribes are simply not consistent. Taking each individual text as a whole, I have done my best to reproduce what the scribe seemed to be thinking.

PETTY CUSTOMS
PARTICULARS OF ACCOUNT
(EXPORTS)
29 SEPT. 1438 – 29 SEPT. 1439

Particulars of account (exports) of John Norman and Thomas Chynnore for the issues of the petty customs (exports) during the accounting period from 29 Sept. 1438 to 29 Sept. 1439

L TNA: PRO, E122/73/12. Original particulars of account (exports) bound in codex form. Parchment. Unsealed (the hole for the cord of the Exchequer seal is visible in the upper left-hand corner of the recto side of the folios and the cover). In its original form as produced by the Exchequer, the codex contained 46 folios, as indeed is confirmed by the entry on the outside of the back cover (quire structure: VIII¹⁶ + VI¹⁰ + VIII⁴⁶) which were numbered in the lower right-hand corner before the codex was sealed (the hole for the cord to which the Exchequer seal was attached is visible in the upper left-hand corner of the cover and recto sides of the folios) and sent out to the customers. However, since the codex did not contain enough space to record all the exports, the customers sewed a 75 cm long membrane between f. 46^v and the back cover, but did not number it (it bears only the modern stamped number 47). Furthermore, since the codex – even with the added membrane – did not contain enough room for the summa totalis, the auditor had no choice but to add a small schedule (26 cm wide by 16 cm high) for this purpose at the end of the account. As was the case with the membrane, the schedule lacks contemporaneous numeration and bears only the modern stamped number 48. — ^{a-a}parve pur ven^a seignurs 40; 26 die Augusti anno 18 has been entered on the outside of the front cover, London', parva custuma ibidem; continet 46 folia on the outside of the back cover and Summa totalis recepte tam hujus libri quam cujusdam rotuli huic libro annexi de In navi: £2156 11s 9d on the inside of the back cover. The auditor has entered dots over each merchant's customs charges, but only on f. 1^r to f. 27^r and on f. 46^v.

 WOOL CUSTOMS AND SUBSIDY
 PARTICULARS OF ACCOUNT AND CONTROLMENT ROLL
 29 SEPT. 1438 – 29 SEPT. 1439

Particulars of account of Thomas Chalton and Hugh Dyke for the issues of the wool customs and subsidy during the period from 29 Sept. 1438 to 29 Sept. 1439 together with the controlment roll of William Baron for the same period.

L1 TNA: PRO, E122/73/11. Original particulars of account bound as a codex (quire structure: VIII¹⁶), f. 4^r-16^r being blank and f. 7/8, 9/10, 11/12, 13/14 and 15/16 not slit open. Parchment. Unsealed (the hole for the cord of the Exchequer seal is visible in the upper left-hand corner of the recto side of the folios and the cover). London'; magna custuma ibidem; continet 32 folia is entered on the outside of the back cover (i.e. one gathering has been removed). Severe damage from damp, so that the lower part of the folios has rotted away and any folio numbers which might have been entered in the lower right-hand corner of the folios are not visible.

L2 TNA: PRO, E122/76/37. Original controlment roll bound in chancery style (1 membrane). Parchment. Unsealed. £741 5[s ...] is entered in the apex of m 1d. The membrane, badly damaged by damp at the top, has been strengthened by pasting parchment patches on the back. As is usual in controlment rolls, the amount of wool in each sarpler, the number of sacks to which the woolfells correspond and the income from customs and subsidy have been omitted.

INDEX OF PEOPLE AND PLACES

In accordance with current usage, the first names of Englishmen and -women have been standardized to their current forms. Thus Willelmus in the accounts is indexed as William and so forth. Italian and Spanish first names are given in the 'ab-lative' (Andrea, Beaceo, Roderigo rather than Andreas, Beaceus, Roderigus). The first names of other foreigners, who are largely Dutch and German, are normally indexed in something approaching their modern forms, e.g. Johannes, Jacob, Herman, Hugo rather than Hugh (which would indicate an Englishman). However, it is not possible to be entirely consistent. Take, as an example, Willelmus. Is one to index Hanseatic merchants as Wilhelm, but Dutch merchants and shippers as Willem or Wim and the Dinanters as Guillaume? To do so would simply be to introduce incredible confusion, entirely leaving aside the intractable problem of distinguishing between merchants of Dutch and Hanseatic origin. Therefore, in a number of cases I have indexed Dutch and German merchants' first names in the current English form: e.g. Paul, William, Laurence, Andrew, Henry.

Family names have been grouped, where possible, in the index, with cross references leading the reader from the variants to the main entry, which records all variant spellings in parentheses. However, given the inconsistency of the customers' scribes, I have found it impossible to resolve all doubts and have therefore tried to steer a middle course between the splitters and the lumpers. There are cases where there can be no doubt that divergent spellings denote one and the same merchant. On the other hand, there are cases where I am all but certain that variant spellings denote one person, yet am troubled by nagging doubts. In these cases I record the names separately and referred back and forth ('see also N.N.').

The order of the family names in the index is phonological, so that, for instance, 'y' is alphabetized as 'i'.

Place names are in small capitals.

INDEX OF SUBJECTS

The index is structured so as to serve as a glossary. Hence, the main entry is under the word as it appears in the sources (zinziber), and a cross-reference leads the reader from the modern English term to the main entry (ginger see zinziber). If a term is in Middle English, the plural form is also given (e.g. alle hafte, -s); if in Latin, the genitive (e.g. allec, ecis). More than one reference per page is not noted.
