INTRODUCTION

This is the eighth volume of the Tudor series (Part IV) of the edition of the London customs accounts (TNA: PRO E122). It is comprised of the accounts for a single year, namely the wool customs and subsidy particulars of account and the petty customs supervisor's roll for 1507/08.

Everything the reader needs to understand about the English customs system – and the peculiarities of the customs administration in London – has been detailed in the introduction to the pilot edition.¹ There are, as always, some matters which have to be discussed.

WOOL ACCOUNT

It will be recalled that the act of parliament of 8 Feb. 1473 had mandated that the staple company retain all receipts from customs and subsidy on wool and woolfells exported to Calais after 6 Apr. 1466, but made it responsible for all expenses relating to its defense (set at £10,022 4s 8d per annum). This act had been extended in 1488 for a further 16 years² but that expired in 1504, whereupon parliament extended it for another 16 years.³ In our account, therefore, the customers noted in each individual instance that they had received no income from customs and subsidy for wool and woolfells exported to Calais (cust', subs' nichil quia per breve), as Henry VII had ordered them to do by writ on 12 Apr. 1504 (untraceable).

However, this only applied to shipments to Calais. As noted in the particulars (p. 74), the indigenous staple merchant Avery Rawson had exported 48 sacks and 13 cloves of wool to the Mediterranean by sea (versus partes externas per et ultra strictus de Marrok) through his factors and attorneys, the London merchants Thomas Semer and John Alen, in the Sancta Maria de Bylbowe, captained by Ochode de la Rea on 25 May 1508 (ship 87, p. 74). He had done so by authority of the licence Henry VII had granted Rawson on 7 Aug. 1507,⁴ permitting him to export 500 sacks of wool over the space of 8 years via London, Sandwich and Southampton to Italy, paying no more than 4 marks (53s 4d) per sack for customs and subsidy and 8d/sack for Calais duties (Appendix 1), and the corresponding writ directed to the customers themselves on 18 May 1508 (Appendix 2). Hence, the customers recorded that a total of £130 5s 9d was due on these exports.

However, the determinatio (p. 77), recorded not only this (gratis) charge, but also the auditor's surcharge of £56 5s 9½d (at 23s 4d/sack) on the wool, which brought the rates up to 10s/sack (customs) and 66s 8d/sack (subsidy), as required by statute for (indigenous and alien) wool exports elsewhere than Calais.⁵ Both charges were also recorded in the enrolled account.⁶

When the customers appeared before the whole Exchequer for the final audit of their account,⁷ they petitioned for exoneration for the auditor's surcharge of £56 5s 9½d. In so doing, they referenced the king's licence of 7 Aug. 1507 (Appendix 1), permitting Rawson to purchase and export 500 sacks of English wool over the space of 8 years via London, Sandwich and Southampton or via any other port in England to the Mediterranean by sea (ad quascumque partes exteras et transmarinas ultra montana, videlicet per et ultra strictus de Marrok), paying no more than 4 marks (53s 4d) per sack for customs and subsidy and 8d/sack for Calais duties. Half of this sum was due within nine months of shipping and the other half after nine further months. Also they referenced the king's corresponding writs directed to themselves (Appendix 2) and to the Exchequer (Appendix 3). Finally, they proffered the indenture they had drawn up with Rawson's factors Thomas Semer and John Alen. In closing, they noted that Rawson had, by authority of the said licence, already exported 54⁸ sacks of wool via Southampton in the same accounting period (Michaelmas 1507-Michaelmas 1508). The Exchequer accepted these arguments and granted the customers' petition. Its judgement was also recorded in the enrolled account.⁹

PETTY CUSTOMS

The supervisor's roll includes two entries recording imports of malmsey,¹⁰ a strong, sweet wine originally from Monemvasia (Napoli di Malvasia) in Morea. Rather than noting a price for this wine, the supervisor simply recorded the type of merchandise (e.g. ship 205, p. 118).

⁸ The enrolled account (TNA: PRO, E356/24 m 36) states that 58 sacks had been exported via Southampton, while the enrolled account for Southampton (TNA: PRO, E356/24 m 79-79d) gives the total as 53 sacks, 13 cloves of wool. For the Southampton enrolled account see Stuart Jenks (ed.), The Enrolled Customs Accounts (PRO, E356, E372, E364) 1279/80-1508/09 (1523/24) Volume 12: E356/24, E356/30 (List and Index Society 348), London 2013, No. 284.

This will require some explanation. By the statute of 7 Hen. VII (1491), c. 7,¹¹ ‘new customs’ of 18s/butt (126 gallons) were imposed on alien imports of malmsey, as a reprisal for the Venetian customs of 4 ducats (18s sterling) for each butt on English exports of malmsey from Candia (Crete). Despite the fact that parliament had imposed this ‘new custom’ (a fact which made it more akin to tunnage), the Exchequer viewed it as belonging to the petty customs. Accordingly, it was the collectors of the petty customs who received this custom and accounted for it at the Exchequer.

However, receiving the customs on malmsey and accounting for the proceeds were not the supervisor’s job, and it is to his roll that we must turn now, in order to determine its evidentiary value. Let’s look at some typical entries.

Ship 10 (p. 3) includes the entry

De Harman Haresbek, alienigena, pro 1 hoggeshede cum divercis mercandis.
[Precii] £5

Clearly, this entry tells you nothing whatsoever about what Haresbek imported.

Sometimes, the entries are tantalizing, but frustratingly uninformative, as may be seen in ship 210 (p. 120):

De Harman Ring, Hans, pro 1 basket cum 300 [lb.] zinziberis et aliis. [Precii]
..... £16 6s 8d

It is all very well to know that Ring imported ginger, but there is no way of knowing what was hidden behind the blanket expression et aliis.

Clearly, the supervisor was doing no more than recording the name of the merchant, his classification as alien or Hanseatic,¹² the packing unit, the first item of merchandise and the total value of his goods. Occasionally, indeed, one of these items might be left off, as the example of Herman Haresbek shows. Consequently, the function of the supervisor's roll can only have been to provide a very rough-and-ready check on the accuracy and completeness of the customers' and controller's rolls. It would suffice to determine whether the customers had 'forgotten' a ship or a merchant or had 'reduced' the total value of the merchandise (splitting the difference with the merchant in question). The supervisor's roll was only a first, fairly flimsy line of defence against large-scale speculation in the customs administration.

¹¹ Statutes of the Realm 2, p. 553. Cf. Rotuli Parliamentorum 6, p. 457. The Exchequer copied this act of parliament into its own records: TNA:PRO, E159/268 Recorda Easter m 19.

¹² This was necessitated by the conditions attached to the £30 annuity Henry VII had granted the Cologne merchant Herman Ring. Payment of this annuity was predicated on Hanseatic merchants’ paying at least £30 in petty customs. Hence (as explained in LCA IV 6, p. x-xii), it was necessary to identify Hanseatic imports and exports of miscellaneous merchandise, even if this was fiscally immaterial (since both Hansards and other aliens paid 3d/£). In fact, his annuity was paid out, as the enrolled account shows: Et Hermano Ryng, cui rex 25^{to} die Novembris anno 18^{vo} [25 Nov. 1502] dedit et concessit quandam annuitatem triginta librarum monete Anglie habendarum et percipiendarum annuatim prefato Hermano a festo sancti Michaelis Archangeli tunc ultimo preterito [29 Sept. 1502] pro termino vite ipsius Hermani de custumis regis provenientibus et crescentibus de quibuscumque bonis, rebus et mercandis tam predicti Hermani quam quorumcumque mercatorum et cujuscumque mercatoris Hanze seu Theutonice tam a partibus exteris in regnum regis Anglie in portum regis London’ adductis et adducendis quam extra regnum regis predictum a portu predicto eductis et educendis traducendis per manus customariorum, collectorum sive aliorum receptorum parve custume regis in portu predicto pro tempore existencium ad festa Pasche et sancti Michaelis per equales porciones — £30 pro festis Pasche anno 23^{to} et sancti Michaelis anno 24^{to} per breve regis, quod est inter communia de anno 18^{vo} termino sancti Michaelis rotulo 15^{mo} [TNA: PRO, E159/281 Recorda Michaelmas m 15d: LCA IV 6 App III 1] et litteras acquietancie ipsius Hermani de recepta [untraceable]. (E356/24 m 49).

Therefore, it would be perilous to hazard almost any statement about London's trade based solely on a supervisor's roll. In order to illustrate this point, let us take the example of Jacobo de Ponte. In ship 229 (p. 123), the following is recorded

De Jacobo de Pont, alienigena, pro 1 maunde cum peper. Precii..... £45

The entry does not state the amount of pepper de Ponte imported. Therefore, it is impossible to make any statement about the value of pepper in that year or even draw up a list of the leading pepper merchants (by volume).

Worse yet, the enrolled account¹³ records an auditor's surcharge of £7 10s on imports of 600 quintals of alum by Jacob de Ponte (at 3d/£), but there is no corresponding entry in the supervisor's roll. There can be no question that de Ponte in fact imported the mordant, but it must be hidden behind an et aliis veil.

In order to gain an idea of how much might be hidden behind formulations such as et aliis, cum diversis mercandis and the like, let us look at the imports in John Staprest's ship on 1 July 1508 (ship 304, p. 138)

De Mysot de Barde et Johanne Manello, alienigenis, pro 2 cistis cum divercis^a marcandis. Precii.....£226 15s

De Johanne de Victoria, alienigena, pro 3 cistis cum divercis^a mercandis. Precii.....£179 16s 8d

De Johanne Lewyan, alienigena, pro 2 fardellis cum canves. Precii £4

De Julian Cerestore, alienigena, pro 18 fardellis cum divercis^a mercandis. Precii.....£504 11s 8d

De Dominico Sawly, factore Anthonii^b Sawly, alienigena, et sociorum suorum, alienigenarum, pro 3 cistis cum divercis^a mercandis. Precii.....£277 10s

Note that the goods in the ship are worth a total of £1192 13s 4d. This is a substantial amount, comprising some 1.5% (by value) of all miscellaneous merchandise imported and exported by aliens and Hansards during the entire year. But everything barring an unknown quantity of canvas is hidden behind the 'diverse merchandise' formulation. What the supervisor's blanket term conceals (and what accounts for the substantial total value of the cargo) is surely the usual riotous panoply of Italian goods – velvets, satins, currants, pepper and other spices and so on –, but it is impossible to know what.

¹³ TNA: PRO, E356/24 m 49. Calendered Stuart Jenks (ed.), The Enrolled Customs Accounts (PRO, E356, E372, E364) 1279/80-1508/09 (1523/24) Volume 12: E356/24, E356/30 (List and Index Society 348), London 2013, E356/24, No. 183.

Sobering conclusions are unavoidable. On the basis of a supervisor's roll alone it is impossible to state with any confidence how much of a given product (velvets, linen cloth etc.) was imported or exported, either by volume or value. It is equally impossible to draw up a list of leading importers or exporters of a given product.

Having sounded these clarion warnings, let me qualify them to a degree. I have no reason to believe that the products the supervisor named and the total values he recorded for the cargoes were fictitious. Furthermore, I have the impression that the entries are pretty well complete in those cases where goods were customed by amount according to a specific tariff (rather than ad valorem). This applies to alien wax imports (12d/quintal) and all cloth exports, which notoriously were subject to one of nine separate customs rates, depending on whether the exporter was indigenous, alien or Hanseatic and how the cloth had been died (sine grano, cum dimidio grano, cum grano/de scarleta). At any rate, the blanket entries (cum aliis, cum diversis mercandisis) are markedly less common in the export section of the supervisor's roll than in its import section. However, testing this impression would involve going through the supervisor's roll, adding up the amounts of wax and cloth and comparing the result with the figures given in the enrolled account. Unhappily, there is one membrane missing in the import section and another in the export section. That renders the exercise pointless.

The customers' particulars of account were fiscal documents, forming an integral part of the procedure imposed on the customers when accounting for the crown's customs income before the Exchequer. As such, they were marked up by the auditor when he summed up the crown's income according to the various categories and tariffs. These marginated annotations form an integral part of the source and, in my view of it, deserve to be reproduced in full. I have done this in the following way. First of all, the auditor's summations of income at the end of each page or membrane (including the jottings reproducing the position of the counters on the counting table) have been reproduced as written in the account. Second, all other marginated notes (e.g. a cross or an asterisk indicating an error) are noted in the normal way in the critical apparatus. However, recording the eternally repetitive marginal notes on the tariff categories to which particular products belonged (panni ind', panni al', panni Hans', per breve etc.) call for a different solution, since including them in the critical apparatus would simply blimp it up to no useful purpose. Consequently, I have indicated them in the text by employing superscript letters in angle brackets (e.g. ^{}De Roberto Derlyngton) and resolving these in a block at the bottom of the page (Auditor's marginated notations L: ^{} panni ind').

The problem of the hundredweight is exceedingly vexed. While it is well known that a hundredweight can correspond to 100 lb., 112 lb. or 120 lb. avoirdupois,¹⁴ there is no way to know which of these three values applies when a customer writes c lb. or fractions and multiples thereof. Just occasionally, when the particulars of account and the controlment roll have survived, some insight is possible, for instance if one of the two records a particular merchant's exports of pewter vessels as di⁷ c lb. vasorum stanni and the other the same goods as lvj lb. vasorum stanni.¹⁵ But these cases are far too rare to inspire confident generalizing. Consequently, I have decided to leave the matter unsolved, marking the text in such a way that the reader can easily reconstruct the entry. The most common notation of weight – multiples of 'c' – has not been marked up. Thus iiij^c lb. is simply transcribed as 300 lb. If the thousand sign was used, the number is marked with a cross: thus, ij M[†] lb. is transcribed as 2000[†] lb. (but xx^c lb. as 2000 lb.) If the sign for one half is used, this is indicated by an asterisk: thus, di⁷ c lb. is transcribed as 50* lb. (but l lb. as 50 lb.) And finally, if the sign for one quarter is used, this is indicated by a double cross: thus, c q' lb. is transcribed as 125[‡] lb.

Diplomatic Notes on the Form of the Edition

The transcriptions of Latin documents in this edition observe the conventions of the Monumenta Germaniae Historica. The source texts (and all variants) are reproduced in normal type, while editorial intrusions are printed without exception in italics (e.g. mardre L3, in error). Unambiguous abbreviations are expanded silently, without using square brackets or italics to indicate missing letters. u/v and i/j have been regularized silently to accord with pronunciation: thus vniuersalis in the source text is rendered universalis, while 'i' is transcribed if the letter is pronounced as a vowel (imperii), and 'j' if the letter is pronounced as a consonant, i.e. like the 'y' in 'you' (majestas), even if the source writes imperij and maiestas.

Personal names and place names are transcribed exactly as written and only regularized in the Index of People and Places.

Roman numerals are reproduced as Arabic numerals, except for the sovereign's ordinal (Edwardi ivth). Arabic numerals which occur in the source texts are indicated by bold type. ob' is given as ½d, q' as ¼d and ob' q' as ¾d.

Following the convention in German, I have used a full stop after a number to indicate the ordinal rather than the cardinal, if a number is not written out. Thus, 27. die Januarii (p. 147) is to be understood as vicesimo septimo die Januarii, rather than viginti septem die Januarii.

When transcribing the customs accounts, I have numbered the ships consecutively in italics in square brackets. The individual paragraphs of longer texts have also been numbered in the same way. The reason for this is that the web version of the accounts and accounting materials for the Lancastrian period has no pagination, since the amount of text displayed on the screen depends on the size of the monitor and its resolution. Consequently, cross references – whether within a single document, from one document to another or in the indices – to 'page thus-and-such' are meaningless, and some internal sub-division of the text which can be linked in is unavoidable. Since some scholars will want to use the printed version of the edition and others the web edition, it is necessary to provide a common basis. Thus, if one scholar refers to ship No. 24 in the digital version of a particular account, those using the printed version will be able to find the vessel in question.

All dates and cross references in the source texts have been resolved in italics in square brackets in the text of the edition, rather than in footnotes.

If both the particulars of account and the controlment roll survive, certain variants have been suppressed to avoid inflating the text-critical apparatus. Thus, neither the substitution of 'y' in one text for 'i' in the other (e.g. Willyamson, Williamson) nor middle English plural variants (-es, -is, -ys etc.) have been noted in the apparatus criticus. In general, I have limited the notation of textual variants to those cases in which the variant spelling of a word changes the pronunciation. Thus, the variant federbeds will be noted against fetherbeds, but not fedderbeds or federbeddes against federbeds.

Punctuation is artificial and ignores all medieval full stops, commas and so forth. Since Latin is a syntactic language (like German), the eminently useful MGH convention – namely to employ punctuation (according to the pre-reform German rules) to mark up the grammatical structure of the sentence – has been employed here. I have also broken up the stylistically elegant, but utterly incomprehensible run-on Latin sentences of the source texts into manageable units.

Since we are dealing with late medieval administrative Latin, there are some cases which call for local by-laws.

First of all, there are a number of middle English words embedded in the Latin texts which have to be assigned a gender, since they are often modified by an abbreviated adjective (e.g. pro 1 parv' fetherbed). Since the adjectives are written out in a number of instances (pro 1 parvo fetherbed), I have arbitrarily imposed a masculine grammatical gender on all middle English words rather than litter the edition with apostrophes.

Second, the sources themselves are in a muddle as to whether the words custuma and *subsidiu*m are singular or plural, and usually avoid the problem by writing cust' and subs'. If a scribe does write out the one or the other word, it is almost inevitable that he will contradict himself, writing custuma in one line and custume a few lines later. This muddle is not merely the result of scribal carelessness or low standards of Latinity. In the fifteenth century, it was possible to differentiate between the collective noun (in the singular) denoting the charges to be paid and the individual sums (in the plural) which each merchant rendered. Even bearing this in mind, however, scribes are simply not consistent. Taking each individual text as a whole, I have done my best to reproduce what the scribe seemed to be thinking.

- 3 Henry VII to the London wool customers and petty customers: having granted the Calais staple merchants Avery and Nicholas Rawson a licence to purchase and cleanse wool from any English county and export 500

sacks of the said wool (either by themselves or through their indigenous factors or attorneys) over the space of 8 years via London, Sandwich or Southampton (or any other port of their choice) by sea to the Mediterranean, paying only 4 marks/sack for customs, subsidy and all other charges (one half being payable 9 months after shipment, the other after another 9 months), provided these shipments be recorded in indentures, and having ordered the customers to permit the Rawsons to export the said wool according to the terms of their licence, the king orders the Exchequer to exonerate the customers correspondingly. — 1509 Jan. 26. PETTY CUSTOMS
SUPERVISOR'S ROLL
29 SEPT. 1507 – 29 SEPT. 1508

Supervisor's roll of John Millys for the issues of the petty customs in London for the accounting period from 29 Sept. 1507 to 29 Sept. 1508

L TNA: PRO, E122/80/5. Original supervisor's roll bound in Exchequer style (32 of the original 34 membranes have survived – the original mm 3 and 27 have been lost – and are numbered in Roman numerals at the bottom center of the membrane; in addition, the import and export membranes were numbered separately in Arabic numerals in the stitching at the top right-hand corner of the membrane: imports: m 1 unnumbered; m 2 2; m 3 missing; m 4 5, m 5 6, m 6 7, mm 7-16 unnumbered; exports: m 17 1, m 18 2, m 19 3, m 20 4, m 21 5, m 22 6, m 23 7, m 24 8, m 25 9, m 26 10, m 27 missing, m 28 12, m 29-31 backing parchment pasted over the corner, m 32 16, m 33, 17, m 34 18). Parchment. Unsealed. Some damage from damp.

In view of the missing membranes, it seems best to indicate both the numbering of the membranes by the National Archives (in pencil) and – when different – the original numbering in Roman numerals: e.g. m 3d (m 4d original)

INDEX OF PEOPLE AND PLACES

In accordance with current usage, the first names of Englishmen and -women have been standardized to their current forms. Thus Willelmus in the accounts is indexed as William and so forth. Italian and Spanish first names are given in the 'ablative' (Andrea, Beaceo, Roderigo rather than Andreas, Beaceus, Roderigus). The first names of other foreigners, who are largely Dutch and German, are normally indexed in something approaching their modern forms, e.g. Johannes, Jacob, Herman, Hugo rather than Hugh (which would indicate an Englishman). However, it is not possible to be entirely consistent. Take, as an example, Willelmus. Is one to index Hanseatic merchants as Wilhelm, but Dutch merchants and shippers as Willem or Wim and the Dinanters as Guillaume? To do so would simply be to introduce incredible confusion, entirely leaving aside the intractable problem of distinguishing between merchants of Dutch and Hanseatic origin. Therefore, in a number of cases I have indexed Dutch and German merchants' first names in the current English form: e.g. Paul, William, Laurence, Andrew, Henry.

Family names have been grouped, where possible, in the index, with cross references leading the reader from the variants to the main entry, which records all variant spellings in parentheses. However, given the inconsistency of the customers' scribes, I have found it impossible to resolve all doubts and have therefore tried to steer a middle course between the splitters and the lumpers. There are cases where there can be no doubt that divergent spellings denote one and the same merchant. On the other hand, there are cases where I am all but certain that variant spellings denote one person, yet am troubled by nagging doubts. In these cases I record the names separately and referred back and forth ('see also N.N.').

The order of the family names in the index is phonological, so that, for instance, 'y' is alphabetized as 'i'.

Place names are in small capitals.

INDEX OF SUBJECTS

The index is structured so as to serve as a glossary. Hence, the main entry is under the word as it appears in the sources (zinziber), and a cross-reference leads the reader from the modern English term to the main entry (ginger see zinziber). If a term is in Middle English, the plural form is also given (e.g. alle hafte, -s); if in Latin, the genitive (e.g. allec, ecis). More than one reference per page is not noted.
